- A user-friendly, full stack application following the MVC paradigm that keeps records of your vehicle(s)'s maintenance through user submitted posts and forms.
- My responsibilities included constructing the server to handle routes for rendering pages and manipulating content, as well as creating models to define the data in our database.
- HTML, Tailwind CSS, JavaScript, Node.js, Express.js, Handlebars.js, MySQL, Express-session, dotenv, bcrypt, Heroku

Tech Blog | GitHub: <https://github.com/ChesneyJulian/tech-blog> |

Active URL: <https://mvc-tech-blog-2023-86b27f515ccd.herokuapp.com/>

- A CMS-style blog site that follows the MVC paradigm and allows users to create posts and leave comments once they have created an account.
- This is an independent project that I developed all code for, including visible assets, models and data structuring, and controllers/routes.
- HTML, Pico CSS, JavaScript, Node.js, Express.js, Handlebars.js, MySQL, Express-session, dotenv, bcrypt, Heroku

Night-In Generator | GitHub: <https://github.com/cdgonzo23/night-in-generator/> |

Active URL: <https://cdgonzo23.github.io/night-in-generator/>

- A clean, responsive app that generates random options (and recipes if applicable) for a meal, drink, and movie so that users can generate plans for a night at home.

- This app was developed with one collaborator, and tasks of styling UI and fetching/rendering data were shared between us.
- HTML, JavaScript, CSS, Bootstrap, TheMealDB API, TheCocktailDB API, and OMDb API
